Adopting the same line of reasoning witch Mr. Daugherty followed in construing the law limiting Senatorial election expenditures, it becomes apparent, according to the view of several Senatoria, that the earlier act of January 26, 1907, which prohibited corporations from making contributions to the election of President, Vice-President, Senators and Representatives, is invalid in the case of Senators.

That act provides "it shall be unlawful for any corporation whatever to make a money contribution in connection with any election at which Presidential and Vice-Presidential electors or a Representative in Congress is to be voted for, man came in there who had never lived in the resources and the adopting of the reasoning mot be too liberal in that provision.
